APPENDIX.

REGIMENTAL RULES and ORDERS of the QUEEN'S OWN REGIMENT of WORCESTERSHIRE YEOMANRY CAVALRY, founded by the EARL of PLYMOUTH in 1831.

General.

1st. Any member wishing to quit the regiment after receiving new clothing, if before three years' wear, shall pay to the regimental fund 2*l* 15*s*.

2nd. No member to quit without giving two months' notice, on penalty of 2*l* 15*s*., to be paid to the regimental fund in addition to the former.

3rd. Any member wearing any article of his clothing or accoutrements, except when on duty, shall pay one guinea to the regimental fund.

4th. Any member losing or negligently damaging any article of his clothes or accoutrements, shall pay to the regimental fund the price which such article shall have cost.

Regulations for each Troop.

1st. Any officer not attending parade, shall forfeit one guinea.

2nd. Any non-commissioned officer not attending, shall forfeit ten shillings.

3rd. Any private not attending, shall forfeit five shillings.

4th. A certificate of sickness shall be the only excuse for non-attendance, unless the Commanding Officer shall think otherwise.

The above Rules and Regulations were approved of and confirmed by his Majesty, William the Fourth, 17th June, 1831.

Regimental Orders.

No. 1. Morning dress.

Is, for an Officer in Barracks or Quarters, cap, with oilskin cover, blue frock coat, with scales and grey trowsers; but at Parades, and appearing in Public, or visiting his Quarters and Stables in Cantonments, the sword and belt to be worn, with short gloves.

Digitized by Google

For Non-commissioned Officers and Troopers, blue cap, jacket, grey trowsers, and boots or shoes, and short gloves.

No. 2. Evening dress. Is, for an Officer when he dresses for dinner, scarlet shell jacket, white waistcoat and satin stock, laced blue trowsers, cap without oilskin.

For Non-commissioned Officers and Troopers after mid-day stable hour, in the Morning Dress, see No. 1.

No. 3. Orderly Officer. The Orderly Officer attends all mounted Parades, Morning and Evening Dress, with sword and belts; but when on other Duties and at Parades, he will appear as other officers do; when he sits down to dinner the sword may be taken off, but so placed that he can put it on immediately should duty require his attendance, but the pouch and belt must be constantly worn, as well as the shoulder scales, on this duty.

No. 4. For Divine Service. Is, unless otherwise ordered, for an Officer, helmet, scarlet coat with epaulettes, sword and silver belt, gold knot, laced blue trowsers, gold sash, and short gloves, boots and spurs.

For Non-commissioned Officers and Privates, helmet, coat and scales, grey trowsers, sash, sword and belt, short gloves, boots and spurs.

No. 5. Watering Order. For Officers, Non-commissioned Officers, and Troopers, in the Morning Dress, see No. 1; horses with curb bridles, saddles, and holsters, but without cloak, carbine, or sheepskin, no shabracque, head collar, or chain, and in short gloves.

No. 6. Field-day Order. Is, for all, scarlet coat with scales, grey trowsers, helmet, sash, sword and belts; horses in curb bridles, saddle, holsters, cloaks buckled on before, sheepskins, shabracques, head collars and chains, and with carbines and short gloves.

No. 7. Drill Order. Is, for an Officer, frock coat with scales, grey trowsers, cap with oilskin cover, sword and belts.

For Non-commissioned Officers and Troopers, blue jacket, cap, grey trowsers, sword and belts, carbine, all in short gloves, the horse in curb bridle, saddle, cloak, holsters, head collars and chains, but no sheepskin or shabracque.

No. 8. Review Order. Is, for an Officer, helmet, scarlet coat, epaulettes, gold knot and sash, laced blue trowsers, sword and laced belts, gauntlet gloves, boots and spurs, horse as in marching order.

For Non-commissioned Officers and Troopers, coat, grey trowsers, sash, helmet, sword and belts, carbine, gauntlet gloves; the horse full accoutred, and with sheepskin, head collar, and chain.

No. 9. Marching Order.

Is, for an Officer, helmet, scarlet coat with scales, gold sash, grey trowsers, sword and belts; scales of helmet buckled tight under the chin on all parades; horse full accoutred, and with head collar and rein, sheepskin and shabracque, the ends of which are to be hooked up over the crup in dirty weather; all in gauntlet gloves.

Non-commissioned Officers and Troopers, helmet, scales buckled tight under the chin, coat scales, grey trowsers, sash, sword and belts, gauntlet gloves, haversack over the right shoulder, in which are the stable dress, linen brushes &c., necessary for duty; should it be necessary to carry a feed of corn, each man will do so in his nose-bag for that purpose, fastened to the near ring of the saddle behind.

No. 10. In aid of the Civil Authorities.

This duty will be performed in marching order, but without sheepskins or shabracques.

No. 11. In lying Picquet.

Is for all, when on permanent duty, the same as field-day order, but without sheepskin and shabracque; all in short gloves, and to wear their pouch and belt for the day on all duties; if called out, each Non-commissioned Officer will with his squad proceed to the alarm post or place of parade immediately.

No. 12. Escort Duties.

To escort a Royal Personage, will be in review order; but to escort prisoners will be in field-day order, without shabracques or sheepskins, but with head collar and chain.

No. 13. Under Arms on Foot.

Is, for all, helmet, scarlet coat, scales, sash, grey trowsers, sword and belts, boots and spurs, short gloves, and with carbines.

No. 14. On Foot with Side-arms.

Is, for all, helmet, coat with scales, sash, grey trowsers, short gloves, boots and spurs, sword and belt.

No. 15. On Foot with Side-arms to Drill.

Officers in the morning dress, sword and belt; Non-commissioned Officers and Troopers, stable jacket, cap, grey trowsers, sword and belt, short gloves.

No. 16. Guards.

As may be ordered.

No. 17. Appointments and Accoutrements.

The arms, the bridle, and as much of the saddlery as possible, to be kept in the men's rooms, and ready to be taken up at once, however dark it may be, in the case of necessity.

No. 18. Observations.

Officers to wear spurs and gloves when in regimentals. The shirt collar never to appear above the stock. Non-commissioned Officers and Troopers to wear gloves, spurs, and straps to trowsers, at all parades, except the spurs, which will not be worn at the foot drill, morning or evening dress, or in watering order; scales of helmet to be down and buckled tight under the chin on all parades.

The irons to be kept in oil at all times, except when brightened for parade.

No. 19. Stable hours.

The morning stable-hour to be at six o'clock from the 1st of April to the 1st of October, and at seven o'clock from the 2nd of October to the 31st of March. The mid-day stable hour from half-past twelve to one o'clock, and evening stable hour from half-past seven to eight o'clock. Non-commissioned Officers to visit and see that the horses are cleaned and fed, and all things clean and in order, at the stable hour. Each sergeant is answerable for his own squad, and will report all irregularities to his captain, or officer who may visit the quarters of his troop; makes his squad parades, marches to his troop parade, and makes his report, of any misconduct that may have occurred, to his captain.

Leave of absence.

Any trooper requiring leave of absence applies through his drill sergeant to the captain, for the adjutant's information, to the colonel.

No man can have leave from permanent duty, or in aid of the civil service, but from the colonel commandant.

Order.

When on permanent duty, one sergeant in each troop will be appointed an orderly-sergeant, whose duty it is to receive all orders from the sergeant-major at the orderly hour, copying them into his book, then showing it to his Officers, and then to the Non-commissioned Officers of his own troop, who are to make out, and communicate to every man of their respective squads what duty they are to perform, agreeable to the order received; the orderly sergeant marches all men to parades, &c., makes his report to the sergeant-major or adjutant, as may be; and when his troop assembles for a general parade, precedes it five minutes, and makes the report of the number of men and horses present on parade to the sergeant-major or adjutant.

Digitized by Google

Between the time of the trumpet sounding to turn out a quarter of an hour is allowed for the squad-parade, and marching to the troop-parade, where ten minutes more is allowed for the telling off and joining the general parade of the regiment, unless the regiment is in very extended cantonments, indeed, and then the time will be considered. For a foot-parade of small portions of men for special duties only, ten minutes are allowed between the first sound and general parade. Sounds, &c.

A list of such articles as will be useful to Yeomanry when on Duty:

Haversack,	Hard-brush,
Shirts,	Blacking ditto,
Stockings,	Polishing ditto,
Night-caps,	Ornamental or Brass-brush,*

CONTINUATION OF INFORMATION

ON

THE QUEEN'S OWN REGIMENT

OF

WORCESTERSHIRE YEOMANRY CAVALRY,

FROM THE 1ST OF APRIL, 1843, TO THE 31ST OF MARCH, 1854.

1843. October. The regiment assembled at Worcester on the 4th of October, for eight days permanent duty, and was inspected by Lieut.-Colonel Martin, of the 1st Royal Dragoons.

"QUEEN'S OWN REGIMENT OF WORCESTERSHIRE YEOMANRY CAVALRY.

"Head Quarters, Hewell, October 13th, 1843.

"The Commanding Officer has to congratulate the Regiment upon the high and distinguished honour that has been conferred upon it by the presence of Her Majesty the Queen Dowager on the day of inspection, and of the approbation expressed by Her Majesty at the appearance of the Regiment in the Field.

"This event, so unusual, will doubtless create a spirit of emulation and pride amongst the members of the Regiment, and give an additional stimulus to the support of that efficiency, which has contributed so much to the welfare of the County.

"His Serene Highness the Prince Hohenlohe Langenbourg was pleased to express his admiration at the appearance of the Regiment, and of the various movements executed in the Field.

"The Commanding Officer has the sincere gratification to communicate the following observations, which Lt.-Colonel Martin, of the Royals, has made of the efficiency of the Regiment:—

"'After the very high and gracious encomiums of Her Majesty the Queen Dowager, and his Serene Highness the Prince Hohenlohe Langenbourg (a distinguished Officer), of the general fine appearance of the Queen's Own Worcestershire Yeomanry Cavalry this morning, as well as of their admirable movements in the Field; Lt.-Colonel Martin, the Inspecting Officer, need only assure Lt.-Colonel Clive (which he does with the greatest sincerity) that nothing could have been more satisfactory than his own Inspection of them, and he hopes Lt.-Colonel Clive will oblige him by conveying in the Orders of the Regiment, how fully he concurs in the general estimation of their merits and efficiency, and which he will not fail to make the strongest report of the Regiment to the proper Authorities. 1843. October.

"'THOMAS MARTIN,
"'Lieutenant-Colonel Royal Dragoons.'

"The appearance on the Field of the Lord-Lieutenant of the County, must have been witnessed with pleasure by every Member of the Regiment.

"The Commanding Officer has great pleasure in again reverting to the unwearied support he has received from Major Martin, while present on duty, and from his brother Officers. He must also express his obligations for the uniform assistance he has received from Captain and Adjutant Emmott, and the Officers of the Regimental Staff. The Commanding Officer has to offer his continued thanks to the Non-commissioned Officers and Privates, for the same good conduct in Quarters as well as in the Field, as has always been noticed on former occasions.

"The Commanding Officer regrets the absence of Lieut.-Colonel Lord Ward, whose presence is always so acceptable to the Regiment.

"The Commanding Officer cannot conclude these observations without expressing his regret at the accident that occurred to Captain Sir Offley Wakeman, Bart., at the commencement of the period of Exercise. He is convinced that the circumstance is deeply felt throughout the Regiment.

"The Commanding Officer laments much the injury that one of the Artillery-men sustained in the discharge of his duty with the guns during the Inspection.

"Lieutenant-Colonel Commandant."

On the 12th September the Regiment assembled at Worcester for eight days' permanent duty, and was inspected by Lieut.-Colonel J. Whyte, of the 7th Queen's Own Hussars. 1844. September.

"THE QUEEN'S OWN REGIMENT OF WORCESTERSHIRE YEOMANRY CAVALRY.

"Head Quarters, Hewell, September 20th, 1844.

"The Commanding Officer has great pleasure in communicating to the Officers, Non-commissioned Officers, and Privates of the Queen's Own Worcestershire Regiment of Yeomanry Cavalry, the annexed observations of Lieut.-Colonel Whyte, 7th Queen's Own Hussars.

"'LIEUTENANT-COLONEL CLIVE.

"'Worcester, September 18th, 1844.

"'Having completed a minute Inspection of the Queen's Own Worcestershire Cavalry, I beg to express to you, in the strongest terms, my approbation of the appearance and movements of that Corps in the Field, and their efficiency in all respects. It reflects the highest credit, not only on yourself as Commanding Officer, but on every Officer, Non-commissioned Officer, and Private belonging to the Corps, and shows what may be effected by zeal and attention, even with small means and scant time. When all are good, it seems almost invidious pointing out or selecting any peculiar position of the Corps; nevertheless, I cannot help remarking on the admirable manner in which the Guns have this day been worked.

"QUEEN'S OWN REGIMENT OF WORCESTERSHIRE YEOMANRY CAVALRY.

"Head Quarters, Hewell, 24th of October, 1845.

"The Commanding Officer has the pleasure to congratulate the Officers, Non-commissioned Officers, and Privates of the Queen's Own Worcestershire Yeomanry Cavalry, upon the subjoined remarks of Lieutenant-Colonel Moore, of the 6th Dragoons, after the inspection on Wednesday last.

"'I have every reason to be entirely satisfied with the Queen's Own Worcestershire Yeomanry, their quietness, steadiness, and the appearance of the Men and Horses, in spite of the late season at which they assemble on this occasion. The management of the guns, I consider highly creditable to all who have charge of that department. The zeal which animates the Corps is shown by the large number of members present, and the few vacancies in it.

"The Commanding Officer has also the gratification to declare the favourable opinion of the Lord-Lieutenant of the County, as to the general appearance of the Regiment, who was present at the Inspection.

"The Commanding Officer laments that the original period of assembling the Regiment was postponed, in consequence of the state of the harvest; inconvenience may have been felt by some, but serious injury might have been sustained by others, had they then been withdrawn from their daily avocations: under the then existing difficulties, the Commanding Officer trusts that upon the whole the convenience of the Regiment has been best consulted by the postponement.

On the 9th September the Regiment assembled at Worcester for eight days permanent duty, and was inspected by Lieut.-Colonel Hankey, of the King's Dragoon Guards. 1846. September.

"QUEEN'S OWN REGIMENT OF WORCESTERSHIRE YEOMANRY CAVALRY.

"Head Quarters, Hewell, September 16th, 1846.

"The Commanding Officer has the pleasure to communicate to the Queen's Own Regiment of Worcestershire Yeomanry Cavalry, which he has the honour to command, the remarks subjoined, which express the opinion of Lieutenant-Colonel Hankey, of the King's Dragoon Guards, upon their appearance after the inspection in the Field this day.

"'Lieutenant-Colonel Hankey having completed the annual inspection of the Queen's Own Worcestershire Yeomanry Cavalry, desires to congratulate Lieutenant-Colonel Clive, and the Officers, Non-commissioned Officers, and Men, upon the extremely effective state of the Corps, and the highly creditable manner in which they have acquitted themselves in the Field.

"'He considers it unnecessary here to enter into the details of such particular points as attracted his attention, and called for his approval, when he is able so satisfactorily to sum up the result of his inspection by assuring the Corps that he did not observe one single point to find fault with.

"'He considers the state of the Corps to be highly creditable to the Commanding Officer, and all connected with it, and in making his report to the Adjutant General of the Forces, he will not fail to do that justice to their merits, to which they are so highly entitled.'

"Worcester, September 16th, 1846.

"The Commanding Officer avails himself of this opportunity to return his warmest thanks to Lieut.-Colonel Lord Ward, Major Martin, and his brother Officers, and to Captain and Adjutant Emmott, and to the Non-commissioned Officers and Privates generally, for the attention and zeal shown by them during the late duties at Worcester.

"The Commanding Officer has the pleasing duty imposed upon him to congratulate the Officers, Non-commissioned Officers, and Privates, of the Queen's Own Worcestershire Yeomanry Cavalry, on the gratifying conclusion of the period of their annual training.

"It is with peculiar satisfaction the Commanding Officer for a second time appends the remarks of Lieut.-Colonel Hankey, of the King's Dragoon Guards, who has been officially appointed to inspect the Regiment, and whose opinion as an Officer is of the highest importance.

"'Worcester, 15th September, 1847.

"'SIR,

"'I have the honour to request that you will have the goodness to express to the Officers, Non-commissioned Officers, and Privates, of the Regiment under your command, my unqualified approbation of their appearance, and of the manner in which they acquitted themselves in the Field during the inspection it has been my duty to make to-day, and I beg to express to you my admiration of the zeal and soldier-like example displayed by yourself.

"'This being the second time I have had the honour of making the inspection of your Regiment, I have had a better opportunity than usual of forming an opinion of its merits.

"'It is impossible that any Corps of Yeomanry Cavalry could be more efficient in every particular, and there are but few capable of bringing into the Field so numerous a body of men and horses, and none more serviceable.

On the 9th September the Regiment assembled at Worcester for eight days' permanent duty, and was inspected by Lieut.-Colonel Scarlett, of the 5th Dragoon Guards. 1848. September.

"THE QUEEN'S OWN REGIMENT OF WORCESTERSHIRE YEOMANRY CAVALRY.

"Head Quarters, Hewell, 18th September, 1848.

"The Commanding Officer has the greatest satisfaction in communicating to the Regiment the subjoined remarks of Lieut.-Colonel Scarlett, of the 5th Dragoon Guards, upon the inspection of the Regiment at Kempsey.

"'Lieut.-Colonel Scarlett has much pleasure in placing upon record his opinion of the high state of efficiency of the Queen's Own Worcestershire Yeomanry Cavalry.

"'The Lieut.-Colonel will not fail to report to the Adjutant-General the ability with which the Regiment and its Artillery were moved by Lieut.-Colonel Clive, and the manner in which he was supported by all ranks; the rapidity with which the Artillery moved and sustained its fire, is highly creditable to that branch of the Regiment.'"

"Worcester, September 15th, 1848.

"The Lord-Lieutenant of the County has requested the Commanding Officer to express to the Regiment the high sense he entertains of the general appearance of the Regiment which he witnessed on the day of inspection.

"The Commanding Officer gladly avails himself of this opportunity to return his warmest thanks to Lieut.-Colonel Lord Ward, Major Martin, and his brother Officers, and to Captain and Adjutant Emmott, for the support and assistance he has received from them during the late period of permanent duty at Worcester, as upon all occasions, and he is happy to state to every Non-commissioned Officer and Private, that the same character for steadiness and intelligence in the Field and regularity of conduct in Quarters has been again displayed, the best test of the efficiency of the Regiment.

1849. September.

The Yeomanry Cavalry of England did not assemble on permanent duty this year. Consequently the Queen's Own Regiment of Worcestershire Yeomanry Cavalry assembled by wings for the Colonel's inspection.

The right wing, composed of three squadrons, assembled at Holy Cross on Wednesday the 19th September, and the left wing, consisting of four squadrons, assembled at Worcester on Wednesday the 26th September, 1849.

For which duty 3*s.* 4*d.* per each officer and man was allowed from Government, and made up to 7*s.* each by the kindness of the Colonel.

In consequence of Her Majesty Queen Victoria, Prince Albert, and the Royal children passing through the County on the 29th September from Scotland to the Isle of Wight, Guards of Honour were in attendance, viz:—Captain Taylor's squadron at Moseley Station; the Hewell squadron, Captain Sir John Pakington, Bart., and Captain Galton's troops, with the Artillery and Band, composed the Guard of Honour at the Bromsgrove Station. Where Her Majesty most graciously expressed Her approbation to Colonel Clive of the appearance of the Officers and men assembled on the honoured occasion.

On Her Majesty's arrival and departure Royal Salutes were given of 21 guns each.

October

On the completion and arrival at Hewell of the painting of Colonel the Hon. R. H. Clive, presented to the Lady Harriet Clive in 1847, the Officers of the Regiment were entertained at a banquet given at Hewell by the Hon. Colonel. Captain Sir John S. Pakington, Bart., the speaker on the occasion.

The Regiment assembled at Worcester on the 12th September for eight days' permanent duty, and was inspected by Lieut.-Colonel Hodge, of the 4th Royal Irish Dragoon Guards. 1850. September.

"QUEEN'S OWN REGIMENT OF WORCESTERSHIRE YEOMANRY CAVALRY.

"Head Quarters, Hewell, 21st September, 1850.

"The Commanding Officer has the greatest satisfaction in communicating to the Queen's Own Regiment of Worcestershire Yeomanry Cavalry the official opinion of Lieut.-Colonel Hodge, of the 4th Royal Irish Dragoon Guards, as to their appearance on the day of inspection, which he has had the honour to receive in the following words:—

"'Worcester, 18th September, 1850.

"'LIEUTENANT-COLONEL CLIVE,

"'Having had the honour of inspecting the Queen's Own Worcestershire Yeomanry Cavalry this day, I am anxious to express to you my entire approbation of their appearance, and of the excellency of their appointments and clothing. The steady manner in which the evolutions were performed reflects credit upon the Commanding Officer, and proves the anxiety of every individual in the Corps to maintain the high character it has attained.

"'The efficiency of the Artillery could not be surpassed, the guns were admirably served and very well manœuvred.

"'It will now be my pleasing duty to make a most favourable report of all I have seen to the Commander-in-Chief, and testify to him my opinion of the admirable appearance and very efficient state of the Regiment.

"'I have the honour to be,

"'&c., &c., &c.,

"'EDWARD C. HODGE,

1851. May. On the 27th May the Regiment assembled at Worcester for five days' permanent duty, at five shillings per day per man from Government, but the Colonel paid to each man 7*s.* per day. On the 30th May the Regiment was commanded by Lieut.-Colonel Lord Ward, and inspected by Colonel, the Honorable Robert Henry Clive.

"QUEEN'S OWN REGIMENT OF WORCESTERSHIRE YEOMANRY CAVALRY.

"Head Quarters, Hewell, 31st May, 1851.

"The Commanding Officer has sincere pleasure in congratulating his brother Officers, Non-commissioned Officers, and Privates, upon the satisfactory termination of the permanent duty concluded this day.

"The unavoidable absence of the Lord-Lieutenant of the County has been matter of much regret, whose presence with the Regiment is at all times so acceptable. Upon other occasions the Regiment has received marks of approbation at the conclusion of their duties from those appointed to inspect the Regiment, and had not the inspection of the 4th Royal Irish Dragoons been appointed yesterday, Lieut.-Colonel Hodge would have again done the Regiment the honour to be present.

"The Commanding Officer, therefore, feels himself called upon to express his individual opinion upon the duties recently discharged.

"Lord Ward and Major Martin will be pleased to accept his special thanks for the assistance which they have afforded to him. Acknowledgments are due from the Commanding Officer to his brother Officers, to Captain and Adjutant Emmott, and the Staff Officers of every degree, for their cordial co-operation in their several departments.

The regularity and demeanour of the Regiment in Quarters, and the good attendance, require his most marked observation. The intelligence shown by the Non-commissioned Officers and Privates in the Field, united to their general appearance as to equipment, points out their character for efficiency, which has been hitherto awarded to them upon all occasions by those most 1852. September.

The Regiment assembled at Worcester for eight days' permanent duty, on the 11th September, and was inspected by Lieut.-Colonel H. D. Griffiths, of the Royal Scots Greys.

On the 30th of August a Guard of Honour from the Hanbury and Westwood Troops, with the Hewell squadron Band and Artillery, attended her Majesty, Prince Albert, and Royal Family at Bromsgrove Station, on their route to Scotland. A salute of 21 guns was given on their arrival and departure.

Captain Taylor's squadron formed a Guard of Honour at Moseley Station on the occasion.

"QUEEN'S OWN REGIMENT OF WORCESTERSHIRE YEOMANRY CAVALRY.

"Head Quarters, Hewell, 18th September, 1852.

"The Commanding Officer cannot convey to the Regiment the remarks of Lieut.-Colonel Griffiths, of the Royal Scots Greys, who this week inspected it, without first observing upon the sad loss the country has sustained, during the period the Regiment was assembled at Worcester, in the sudden death of the Duke of Wellington.

"In the common course of events no one could have expected the life of that great and extraordinary man to have been much prolonged; yet, that life being brought to a close, universal grief must be felt; in truth, it has already been widely and plainly expressed.

"Let us gratefully acknowledge to the Disposer of all Events that a life so valued has been preserved to us so long. Let us respect the memory of one in whom love of his country was his chief and foremost thought; and endeavour to imitate his bright example in devotion to our Sovereign and to our Country, by fulfilling in our different stations the duties that we are called upon to discharge.

"The Commanding Officer has much pleasure to communicate to the Queen's Own Worcestershire Yeomanry Cavalry the gratifying but official opinion of Lieut.-Colonel Griffiths, of the Royal Scots Greys, as to their appearance yesterday at the Inspection.

"The Commanding Officer cannot permit the Regiment to return to their Quarters without again declaring his approval of their conduct in all respects; and while he takes this opportunity to express his best thanks to Lieut.-Colonel Lord Ward, and Major Martin, the Squadron, Troop, and Staff Officers, for their valuable co-operation, he at the same time assures the Non-commissioned Officers and Privates of the pleasure with which he has observed their activity and smartness in the Field, and their usual propriety and good order in Quarters.

"The services of Captain and Adjutant Emmott have been rendered with their accustomed promptitude; and the Commanding Officer must add, that the Non-commissioned Officers and Privates attached to the Regimental guns have received the marked notice of the Inspecting Officer.

"The Lord-Lieutenant of the County has been pleased to express his high approbation of the general appearance of the Regiment, and has requested me to make this opinion known to the Regiment.
